

Legal Consultant

Salvius Legal is a dynamic and growing organization specialized in providing legal support and contract management services to the clinical trial industry, on a global scale. Our company is built on a team of pro-active and enthusiastic professionals with a strong legal background and provides a dynamic, positive and educational working environment. We strongly believe in professional growth and appreciation of each employee's unique strengths, along with a respectful, open and diverse working culture, which allows our team to thrive.

We are looking for a dedicated, solution oriented, focused and creative Legal Consultant, preferably with experience in the clinical trial industry.

Legal Consultant will be responsible for the following main tasks, along with other ad-hoc activities:

- Drafting, reviewing and negotiating different types of contracts (with pharmaceutical companies, hospitals, investigators, etc.) and other legal documents required for performing a clinical trial;
- Providing legal advice to Salvius Legal's clients;
- Contributing to the ongoing improvement of the internal knowledge database;
- Performing in-depth research on applicable legal topics and translate into ready-to-use information;
- Providing training and support to new (or less senior) employees;
- Maintaining oversight of the site agreement negotiation processes;
- Managing relationship with the clients;
- Upon request, conducting trainings or presentations on contract management topics for clients.

We are asking our future Legal Consultant to meet the following requirements:

- 2-3 years working experience in a legal profession, in particular with contracts legal reviews and negotiation;
- Excellent command of written and spoken English and Dutch (an additional language is considered an advantage);
- Experience in working in an international setting;
- Well-developed writing and computer skills;
- Experience and skills in managing client relationships;
- Abilities to guide and train less senior team members;
- Experience in the life sciences sector - especially clinical trials - is an additional value, but not mandatory;
- GDPR compliance experience will be an additional value.

If you wish to apply for this position, please send your CV and cover letter to hr@salviuslegal.com.